

QA Team Leader

[Position summary]

Redbend product unit at Harman is opening full-time QA Team Leader position, which will be involved in automotive/mobile software development project. This position needs to do not only test execution but also leading Japan QA team and collaborate with global project members.

[Responsibility]

This position is mainly responsible for quality of software management solution both on automotive / mobile. It requires to work closely with project management and development team crossing over local and global department.

Major roles are as follows.

- Defining testing strategy, Create QA effort estimation
- Writing test scenario and execution in E2E (Client & Server) environment
- Track and prepare reports on testing activity including test result and test coverage of the projects
- Defect analysis & Evaluation result report
- Manage local QA team and lead/advice to address complicated tasks
- Review QA process to improve software quality
- Work closely with development team to ensure customer's deadlines are met

[Minimum qualifications]

- Educational background
 - Bachelor of 4th year (Preferably having software engineering major)
- Experience
 - At least 5 year's career in QA engineer or team leader
 - Understanding and knowledge of development/test life cycle
- Language Level
 - Japanese: Native Level
 - English: Business Level, Read/write test plan/scenario, collaborate with global QA team

[Preferred qualifications]

- Software quality related certification
- Skills or professional experience in automation test execution & scripting
- Test experience in android/iOS device software of leading telecom operator
- Test experience in software development of automotive field
- Linux platform based test experience (ex. Ubuntu)
- Experience in quality process and issue tracking & project management tools
- Strong analytical and mathematical skill

[Preferred personality]

- Highly motivated to be improved in daily task and learning new skills
- Can be proactively involved in the project, team player
- Can overcome diverse tasks persistently
-
- Self-starter, self-initiated leader

[Location]

Tokyo (Akihabara, Chiyoda-word)